

Waxeater

Waxeater 'SLEEPER' Out 9-14-10

'SLEEPER' is a taut, staccato blast of punk/rn'r from the Bloomington, Indiana trio Waxeater. On their debut full-length they split the difference between the late 70's-early 80's PIL/Birthday Party sound (think Annalisa and Dead Joe filtered through the lens of 'Master of Reality' era Sabbath) and the modern takes of bands like Future of The Left and the defunct Refused, leaving room for detours into gritty ska-like guitar rhythms or slow-groove dashboard pounding breakdowns.

With 'SLEEPER', Waxeater have merged their influences to create a sound all their own. A driven, bone-crushing set that will simultaneously have your head bobbing and your teeth grinding.

Release Date: September 14, 2010
Catalog No: LFR-29
Recommended Tracks: 2, 5, 7, 10
Format: cd, 180-gram vinyl
FCC: 1, 7, 8

Rob Montage - Guitar, Vocals
Jeremy Mills - Bass, Vocals
James Lyter - Drums

Bio

Waxeater formed in Bloomington, IN in the summer of 2006. The initial trio consisted of Jeremy Mills (bass, vocals), Rob Montage (guitar, vocals) and Zac Canale (drums). The band set out to play a dissonant form of indie-punk, capable of inducing equal parts cringing and head-nodding, with influences including some of the expected, Jesus Lizard and Fugazi, to some less expected Nomeansno and The Melvins, Waxeater adds the idiosyncrasies of past hard-rock movements into their careening roller coaster sound. James Lyter took over drum duties in 2007, and instantly amped up Waxeater's evolution with his love of blistering tempos and the frequent time-changes of some of the best in punk and hardcore. Waxeater have played over 200 shows since 2007 and will be touring extensively throughout the U.S. to support 'SLEEPER'.

1. Are Those Fucking Beers Ice Cold Yet? 2:44
2. Give It A Name 2:36
3. Old Problems, New Eyes 2:25
4. Mistakes Were Made 2:29
5. Yeah, Well...4:24
6. Rollie Fingers 2:42
7. The Excellence of Falsehood 4:52
8. Glenn Vansick 2:12
9. Truck Awesome 3:28
10. Warmliness Is A Happy Gun (Et Tu, Brut?) 3:22

Distribution: NAIL/ALLEGRO
20048 NE San Rafael Street
Portland, OR 97230

